

ASST. PROF. FATIMA TUBA YAYLACI

Fatima Tuba Yaylacı completed her undergraduate education at Boğaziçi University, Department of Psychology, and her graduate and doctorate education at Minnesota University, Progressive Psychology program. She received two years of Baby and Early Childhood Mental Health psychotherapy and supervision training based on Tavistock Clinic model at Minnesota University. In addition, she worked at Washburn Children's Health Center as an intern psychotherapist with children, adolescents and families. In her doctorate thesis, she studied the role of sensitivity of parents and interaction with genetic risk processes in comorbid development of Attention Deficit and Hyperactivity and Anxiety symptoms. Research fields that she is interested in: Progressive psychopathology, child abuse and negligence, psychopathology originating from trauma, dissociative disorders, parenthood, cultural adaptation on psychosocial assessments and interventions, progressive risk with regard to behavior genetics and molecular genetics.